Career Center Color Guard places third at Lincoln Park competition

JACKSON, Mich. – Jackson Area Career Center’s Army JROTC took third place out of eleven Michigan high school teams competing at the Lincoln Park Color Guard Competition on Saturday, Oct. 13.

“We are especially proud of our team this year as the competition was as good as we've seen in a couple of years,” said SFC Tom Emond, Army JROTC instructor.

The team placing third in the Color Guard competition consisted of Northwest’s Heather Schurle, Hanover-Horton’s Natasha Lampson, and Michigan Center’s Morgan Hayden and Dana Anderson.

In the individual drill competition, Career Center cadets won three of the top 10 places. Charles Wedhorn (East Jackson) took fourth place, Ryan Stull (Jackson High) took sixth , and Anthony Hamel (Michigan Center) finished in ninth place.

“The cadets represented our school well,” said Emond.

The Career Center’s Army JROTC program cadets participate in a number of different competitions throughout the year. The mission of the program is to motivate young people to become better citizens.
